WILLIS AILES

By Buster Willis

Just as a matter of curiosity I would like to be able to check up and see how many New Year's resolutions have been broken to date. Personally they can account for two. And my intentions were good, too.

And speaking of New Year's resolutions, here is a prayer that should be said by all men and an attempt made to live up to it during the forthcoming year.

A MAN'S PRAYER

Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces one pound, and one hundred cents one dollar. Help me so to live that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow and untroubled by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and not by the sword. I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Defend me from the temptations of the devil, the flesh, and the world. Blind me to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me my own. Guide me so that whenever I look into the faces of my friends I shall have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with the little children, and sympathetic enough to be considered old by the old. And when the day comes of darkness and death and the smell of flowers, the tread of soft footsteps, and the crunching of wheels in the yard—make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple—“Here lies a man.”

—Author Unknown

And to continue about New Year's resolutions, if Linnie Stuckey made one and lost his temper it was short lived. He was about the maddest man in Florida last Sunday when he discovered that a thief had relieved him of eight tires and tubes and wheels. The “sneak” was made right in front of his home in Palokoke and the tires were taken from the car, the trailer and tractor. The aggravating part was that he was to start using the vehicle Monday when he started cutting celery. As he on top of losing the tires, tubes and wheels he can't buy any more tires for a spell. He announced himself the first “casualty” of the war in Palokoke country.

This war is being fought different from the way I thought it was. I know a fellow who tried to enlist in the Naval Reserve and was turned down because of a missing tooth or two. I didn't know you had to be a Japs, too.

Surplus Commodities Discontinued In Area

The State Welfare Board has announced the discontinuance of all remaining surplus commodity orders in the Glades area effective January 6, 1942. This action was taken in view of the unusual employment opportunities in this area at this time. Authorities have announced that re-applications will be taken from only those persons who are physically unable to work and who are not a member of a group in which there are other employables. Re-applications will be taken during Monday mornings in Palokoke and Friday mornings in Belle Glade.

To ruling will not be a factor for the duration of the harvest season. All employable persons are urged to take advantage of the increased employment opportunities.

Organization's Plan Of Farmers Of Glades Area

Committee Is Appointed To Work Out Details For New Set-Up

At a meeting in the Town Hall last Monday night, called jointly by the Belle Glade and Palokoke Defense Councils for the purpose of facilitating the labor problem and assisting the farmers of the area in arriving at some feasible plan for the utilization of available labor, several plans were advanced by those attending.

Luther Jones, acting chairman of the meeting, called on practically everyone present for an expression of opinion as to what there is sufficient labor to harvest the crops if the labor is properly distributed and handled. This resulted in the appointment of F. A. LeFils, Walter Hooker and L. L. Stuckey as a committee to formulate a plan from all of the suggestions presented at the meeting and submit their plan at a meeting to be called in a few days.

Stuckey is chairman of the agriculture committee of the Belle Glade Defense Council, respectively.

Allison T. French of West Palm Beach, who is representing the Federal Employment Service, was present and volunteered full cooperation with the proposed organization. He presented his assistants, one of whom will be located in each of the four migratory camps in this area and another will be added when the camp north of Canal Point is put into operation.

It is believed that the slogan, “Work or Fight” which has been promoted by defense councils of the Everglades, is having some effect and further results are expected.

The Belle Glade Defense Council represented at the meeting by Luther Jones, chairman of the local organization, and John Harris and the Palokoke Council was represented by F. V. Vornay, who acted for Chairman Pete de Moya of the Palokoke Council.

Volunteer Firemen To Present Dance

The Belle Glade Volunteer Fire Department will give a dance at the Town Hall on Friday night, January 10, beginning at 10 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Arthur Lusk and his orchestra from West Palm Beach and the general public is urged to attend.

Proceeds from the dance will be put into the firemen's fund and for the purchase of equipment and other necessary items for the department.

Recently the department purchased an I & H respirator at a cost of $183.00, which has been completely paid for, and firemen are being instructed in the operation of the device. The equipment is for use in connection with artificial respiration in case of drowning, asphyxiation or electrocution.

There are fifteen members of the volunteer department and one paid fireman. The number of new members have been signed since the war and (Continued on page four)

PLANS MADE FOR SPAGHETTI SUPPER

St. Mary's Altar Society met at the home of Mrs. Rosa Nash Tuesday night with Mrs. Eugene McCabe presiding. Plans were made to give the annual spaghetti supper on January 22, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Pike and Mrs. F. W. Shagnessy were named on the supper committee and Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Pike ticket sales.

Tentative plans were discussed for St. Patrick's Day dance. The group voted to volunteer service on the local defense council in any suitable capacity. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Pike on January 22 with Miss Jackie Creech as co-hostess.

RECENT RIDE

Mrs. Robert Y. Creech, Jr., who before her marriage at the Community Methodist church here on December 28th, was Miss Nancy Lee Hooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hooker. The young couple is well known in this section, both of them having lived here since early childhood.

Local Institution Has Made Big Gain During Past Year

The Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association of Belle Glade has made almost phenomenal gains during the year just past, having increased their assets by approximately 40 percent, according to Hugh J. Bratley, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Organized in July of 1934, the institution has had much to do with the rapid growth of this community during the years it has operated. Especially has it favored the construction of new homes in this section and a majority of the homes built in recent years have been financed through the loan association.

Since its organization the institution has always paid two percent annually in dividends, which is unusually in the industry. All investments up to $5,000 are made by an agency of the Federal Home Loan Bank System. Their annual statement of condition appears elsewhere in this issue of The Herald.

APPLICATIONS BEING TAKEN FOR BENEFITS

County Agent M. U. Mounts announced Thursday that applications are being taken at his office in the court house at West Palm Beach for payments under the 1941 soil conservation program.

Applications are being made out fifty at a time and the first fifty who make application will be able to receive their benefits. Agent Mounts stressed the fact that payments are being made earlier this year than last and urged that all farmers and owners who took part in the program in 1941 make their application on their first trip to West Palm Beach to facilitate speed in collecting the payments.

WANTED!

Fire Chief L. E. Will, who is also chairman of the fire and fire department of the Belle Glade Defense Council, is sending out a call for as many as fifty auxiliary men to his branch of the defense set-up.

It is necessary that a large number of auxiliary men be trained in handling fire fighting equipment and be taught how to cope with incendiary bombs. The complete phase of the local defense organization.

A call has gone out before last the response has been very poor and Chief Will is anxious that any able-bodied men who are going to be in this community get in touch with him and register for service in the branch of civilian defense.

If an air raid comes fire fighting will be one of the most important parts of defense, so let the fire chief and learn how you can help when and if it becomes necessary.

Competing with sixteen other Florida lovelies, Miss Paula Parker of Ft. Lauderdale is the business session. Others attending were Father Timothy Gahy, Miss Eleanor Hearn, Mrs. W. H. Gee, Mrs. A. C. Krummel.

WORK OR FIGHT

THIS MEANS YOU

Belle Glade Defense Council

According to rumors the above means just exactly what it says. If a man with dependents is working regularly he is all right. If he is only working half time his family can probably get along just as well without him. If he is not devoting full time to the support of his dependents he can devote full time to Uncle Sam's Army. The Herald does not believe the Defense Council and the Selective Service Board are fooling, so let your conscience be your guide. WORK OR FIGHT in this national emergency.

Woman's Club Holds Bi-Weekly Meeting

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Belle Glade Woman's Club was held at the community club house Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Herbert D. Beck presiding. The meeting opened with the local Post Office. There were for instance, 504 more money orders during the month of December than one year ago. Incoming mail was considerably heavier and Christmas greeting cards are still increasing in popularity.

Mrs. Milton Campbell was unanimously accepted as a new member. Mrs. Holloway gave an eloquent report on the county Federation meeting held at Boynton on Tuesday.

Members were urged to reorganize the Red Cross sewing circle, and it was emphasized that anyone outside the club must do so before October, November and December.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW LARGE GAIN

Postal receipts for the quarter ending the last of December show a gross increase of $400.00 over the same period last year, according to Postmaster George Farnall.

A substantial gain was also noted in other departments of the local Post Office. There were for instance, 504 more money orders during the month of December than one year ago. Incoming mail was considerably heavier and Christmas greeting cards are still increasing in popularity.

In connection with the bond business, Mr. Farnall said that $63,750 worth of bonds and $401.95 worth of stamps were sold during the quarter.

BLACKOUT

- 1—When you hear a long, intermittent, 2 minute blast on whistles and sirens. —BLACKOUT! and get off the streets.
- 2—Extinguish all lights visible from the air.
- 3—Warn others.
- 4—If driving a vehicle, pull over to the curb and stop. Put OUT ALL LIGHTS.
- 5—Keep streets clear for emergency traffic which must travel on foot lights.
- 6—Don't smoke in the open.
- 7—End of Blackout is signalled by steady 2 minute blast on sirens and whistles.
- 8—Keep calm.

MEET YOUR AIR RAID WARDEN!

Your Air Raid Warden is your friend. Welcome him—get to know him. He has sound advice for you on which your life may depend.

- 1—Have him meet every member of your family.
- 2—Tell him where you are to be found when you are away from home.
- 3—Tell him about any member of the household who is ill or handicapped. Tell him about all small children.
- 4—Show him the room you intend to use as a refuge room, ask his suggestions for fitting it up. Follow them—he knows.
- 5—Ask him what are the official air raid warning signals, the official “all clear”, for your community.
- 6—Show him your attic or garret, ask his suggestions for protecting it against incendiary bombs. Also garages and out-buildings.
- 7—Show him where gas and electric shut-off switches are, in all buildings.
- 8—Ask him to point out good shelter in the neighborhood, should you be caught outdoors sometime.
- 9—Answer his questions—trust him; he is a sworn public official, and must know in order to protect you.
- 10—Carry out his suggestions for storing emergency water, food, etc., cheerfully and promptly.
- 11—Ask him how you can help, where you should go to volunteer your services. Calm, strong, able people are needed for volunteer service. Do your home.

Remember what your Air Raid Warden's name is, what he looks like, where he is to be found. He is your best friend in an emergency. He can protect you and help you do your share in defeating the Japs, Nazis or any other enemy.

READ AND SAVE THIS IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE

Should an air raid come to your community, you can do six simple rules:

- 1—Keep calm and cool.
- 2—Get home.
- 3—Put out lights.
- 4—Lie down.
- 5—Cover eyes from windows.
- 6—Don't telephone.

Accident Victim Is Rescued From Fire

Lake Harbor.—Complable John Kirk saved the life of C. H. Murphy about 3 o'clock on Sunday morning when he pulled the apparently dozzled man from his blazing overturned pickup on State Highway No. 23 between Sebring Farms and Lake Harbor. Mr. Murphy, T. O. Walker and E. McCruven were enroute to Venus after a weekend holiday to resume work for the Eberbach Construction Co. when they met disaster here.

Constable Kirk, who investigated the accident, reported that Mr. Murphy severed to the road shoulder to avoid collision with an oncoming car which crowded between his pickup and a car marked on the highway for tire repairs. The truck struck a deep hole and overturned pinning the driver beneath the truck which immediately burst into flames. The other two men were thrown clear.

Officer Kirk with the aid of the negroes in the parked car and others at hand lifted the blazing truck and pulled Mr. Murphy to safety. His clothing was on fire and his back burned. The other two men suffered a broken arm and several fractured ribs. He took them immediately to the Palokoke hospital where they were given first aid and later in the day discharged from the hospital and proceeded to Venus.

MOVIE PROGRAMS TO BE UNINTERRUPTED BY BLACK-OUT TEST

Programs at Everglades Sunday night by the practice blackout of this area, according to Abe Dobrow, general manager of Gold Theaters in this section. Preparations have been made to comply with all requirements of defense councils in this part of the county without the necessity of halting or holding up the programs to be presented at theatres during the blackout on Sunday night from 10:15 to 10:45 o'clock.

League Meets

Lake Harbor.—Miss Evadne Moore presided over the business session of the Senior Christian Endeavor at the Lake Harbor Senior Center, West Palm Beach, Sunday evening. Miss Letha Stacey was in charge of the program on the topic, “The Gift of the Year.” Miss Moore, Miss Merriam, Carolyn Stacey and Agnes Nelson had parts on the program. Others attending were Rev. and Mrs. Gammon, Mary Lou Thomas, Bill Grant, Beatrice Williams, Lillian Kinney and Mrs. H. D. Merriam.

Defense Councils Set for Black-Out On Sunday Night

NOTICE

The Belle Glade Defense Council urges that all persons who own generating plants from 200 watt capacity up register them with “Red” Gurkin or Mike Murphy who are in charge of communications for the Council in this area.

The generating plants should be made available for use in the event of a power failure so that the communicating system will be able to continue to operate and places such as hospitals and first aid stations can be kept open.

The purpose of registering the plants is to facilitate getting in acquiring them for emergency use. Don't delay. Register them immediately.

First Aid Classes Will Start Monday At Migratory Camp

Approximately 100 men, women, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts at the Ocoola Migratory Labor camp have enrolled for classes in American Red Cross First Aid to begin Monday morning.

A schedule has been arranged for four groups with hours that will be convenient for those who work on different shifts during the week. The hours for the first group will be given at the camp, but any one living in town may enroll by contacting Mrs. J. E. Dillard, instructor, or Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, home manager, at director's house.

Classes will be held on each Monday and Friday for a period of five weeks. The first class will be held on Monday at 8:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. The junior course for scouts will be from 3:30 to 5:30 of the same days.

Because of the large number of the women or get to work at 9 in the morning and continue until late hours at night, it is suggested that these lights turned out during the black-out Sunday night, and it is suggested that some provision be made so that they can be turned off in case of future black-outs of the city.

Under the Defense Council's set-up Dick LeFils is air raid warden for the territory from Cardwell to the southwest county line. He has appointed Miss LeFils as deputy warden in the area that every family can be notified within fifteen minutes when an alarm is sounded.

The communications division of the Belle Glade Defense Council and Mike Murphy who have a five mile radius of territory under their post will be known as the “message center.”

Sheriff Baker, in conference with the Belle Glade Police Council and Deputy Sheriff W. M. Motes Thursday afternoon, selected the area for the practice black-out Sunday night and requests that they act in the area under Deputy Motes. The appointment of these deputies is to see that regulations are carried out and to prevent violating and keep order during the black-out.

Those who are requested to meet at the Town Hall Friday night at 8:00 o'clock for instructions and assignments are:

J. K. Baker, F. A. LeFils, Donald Apey and A. C. Bailey in the Belle Glade community; George A. Yon, Harry Mitchell, W. C. Brown and E. M. Williams in South Bay; O. H. Shepard, J. W. Lyons and Frank Prevatt for Bean City; L. F. Burkett, Herbert Wells and Arthur Bolton for Lake Harbor; W. H. Bryd in Bare Beach; J. E. Dillard on Kreamer Island; Joe Cherry and Fritz Stein in Chocoma and Joe Motes.

If you are on the road in a car you are to pull off the road and out your lights and shut the house if possible. All draglines and tractors are to be stopped and lights extinguished during the black-out.

Full compliance with regulations is urged.

Special Officers Have Been Appointed To Enforce Rules, Regulations

Belle Glade's Defense Council is all set for the first practice blackout of this section on Sunday night from 10:15 to 10:45 o'clock. Enough special officers have been appointed by Chief of Police N. B. Lloyd and Sheriff L. R. Baker to insure the enforcement of rules and regulations set up by the National Defense Council. An attempt is being made to familiarize all residents with the regulations so that a completely successful blackout can be accomplished.

It is necessary that absolutely no lights be visible from the ground or from above during the black-out or during the time an alarm is given. If lights are not entirely extinguished they must be turned out. State and town laws definitely call for strict compliance and provide severe penalties for failure to comply.

If it is your habit to have a light burning in your place of business all night, be sure that arrangements are made to have these lights turned out during the black-out Sunday night, and it is suggested that some provision be made so that they can be turned off in case of future black-outs of the city.

Under the Defense Council's set-up Dick LeFils is air raid warden for the territory from Cardwell to the southwest county line. He has appointed Miss LeFils as deputy warden in the area that every family can be notified within fifteen minutes when an alarm is sounded.

TIME TO THINK

The procession of days revolves into another year and people of Palm Beach County join with other human beings in taking advantage of the calendar's termination of 1941 to pause in life's tasks to take stock of the future, especially as they imagine 1942 will affect them.

It is a good thing for an individual to pause in the midst of ordinary cares and worries and try to understand what is going on, both insofar as the person is concerned and, also, in relation to other events. Human beings, as a race, know very little about themselves and less about external conditions and happenings and their own relationship to a changing and diversified environment.

It is easy, you know, for men and women to bury themselves in the prosaic, but necessary, tasks of life. The obligations of existence are necessary and not to be ignored for one seeking satisfactory living. However, human life offers other fields for exploration and discovery. The men and women who lift themselves out of the mob are those who possess the ability to enter this wider field of human activity, whatever their accomplishments may be.

WHEN THE WAR ENDS

The first two terms of President Roosevelt gave the American people many important reforms and much social legislation for the benefit of the vast majority of citizens.

During these years of bitter political fighting over the so-called "New Deal" many of our industrialists, business leaders and financiers, and a number of college executives and preachers, were conspicuous in their opposition to proposed legislation and self-revealing in expressing their personal dislike for the President.

Now that war is actually here the established status quo may be accepted for the duration. Big business, with huge war contracts, will be satisfied, and small-time money changers will remain quiescent. In time, however, if the opportunity arises, there will be an effort to sabotage the gains of the New Deal. It is important that people remain politically alert and intelligently prepared for the domestic battle that is certain to come when the war ends, if not before.

RUSSIA SCORES AN UPSET

The hard cold fact of the fighting in Russia is that the Red army, although beaten to its knees and almost destroyed, has come out of the corner, like a groggy, battered boxer to unleash a counter-attack that has forced its great opponent to retreat.

This does not mean that the Soviet is about to deliver the decisive knock-out but the decision, it is clear, can go either way. The Nazi army that surged to the gates of Leningrad, stormed the outer bastions of Moscow and captured strategic Rostov, the "gateway to the Caucasus," is reeling under the impact of the weather and Russian willingness to fight it out to death.

The retreat of the German army may be strategic in inception and smart in view of the unpreparedness of German soldiers for the fierce winter weather. It may shorten the front, simplify supply problems and release Nazi soldiers for other ventures. It may stop on the line selected by the German high command and next Spring a renewed German assault may recapture the area relinquished.

All this may prove true but, none the less, the Russians have given Hitler his first great defeat, and Soviet morale increases with justification. Hitler proclaimed the Russian campaign as the decisive battle, committing the fate of Germany to the army as it began. Many weeks ago he declared the Red army destroyed, and incapable of organized resistance. He has since admitted that Nazi leaders entirely misjudged the fighting power of the Soviet.

The Red army has decisively checked Hitler, giving new hope to the democracies and causing the Germans to doubt the outcome of the present war. Russia has earned the gratitude of the free world, regardless of differences in organization of social elements. Almost unaided the Soviet faced its mighty foe, took a terrible beating and paid a tremendous price but managed to survive because its people were willing to fight and, if necessary, die for their native land.

The greatest intellectual effort undertaken by some people is that spent in trying to select the winner of a horse race or a college football game.

Sincerity is a very rare virtue.

Few good resolution makers are discouraged by past failures.

Most people are willing to speak by the book if they can write the book.

Mr. American citizen, you are the guy who will have to put the "men" in armaments.

Friendly criticism may be extremely helpful even though it is not so pleasant to the ear.

The average man is willing to do almost anything to make money except good hard work.

Do without something every week during 1942 and put the savings into defense stamps or bonds.

When a young man and a young woman sit close together and talk in low voices, they may not be discussing anything new but they know that it is vitally important.

A budget is a good thing for any family if the family will carry it out, but it won't work miracles by itself.

Prob'ly Facts

By DICK LEFELS

On going to the Orange Bowl football game on New Year's day in Miami, the horse races were run in the morning to give the crowd a chance to lay a few bets on the steeds before the football game started. On driving up at the race track entrance we asked the traffic cop to direct us to the W. P. A. gate and he would without question send you to the bleachers which was the cheapest of the lot.

On looking the animals over with an eye that was more used to telling the quality of a horse by his position in the traces looked a plover than on the race track. I picked out one that didn't have such a lumpy back and placed my hand earnestly on his nose to win. The bell set the race off, the end of the horse that I had the most interest in came out of the stall several noses ahead of all the rest like a politician in his first race. But to my surprise and maybe not the horse's time was high on to twelve o'clock, and from all indications the horse realized it and started taking advantage of it by slowing down as he went by the feed trough that was in the neighborhood of about one third of the distance around the circle. After the feed stall epidemic hit my temporary interest in that horse he lost distance faster than a dive bomber could lose altitude, and came in so far behind the rest until he couldn't even smell the roses.

The only thing that I was to be tickled of was that I lost all of my money at one time and was ready to leave. Where some of the rest of the race fans had to stay and suffer it out by losing their bets by the degrees.

Leaving there with the opinion that the Farm Administration should take the place over, due to having such fine stock for farming purposes.

Fighting my way through forty thousand automobiles to a distance of about two miles from the football stadium. When I was rescued by a cop, and told that I would have to foot it the rest of the way to where there was around thirty eight thousand and football fans who were scrambling among themselves to get to the feed stall to get to their seats at the same time. After wrangling through the crowd on the second round I was able to locate the hardest kernel in the grand stand to where I had to referee any squatters claim to obtain title to stay seat.

Setting there among such a mass of people you could see the human race at its best and occasionally see some of their worst for up over my left shoulder I could see an old fellow who had the resemblance in having a tough night out, for regardless of the pluck and the cheering his expression never changed, for all evidence showed that he had done his cheering the night before.

It is rather amusing to watch some of the fans pet habits during a game, in fact I even have a habit of working and pulling my leg up during the excitement of a touchdown or watching a fight in the making. But my habit is very mild to what some are for you are in no less than a battle line of flying walking and one and a while the grip of catching a good size shoe in the ribs and then when the playing gets at its best, I got so worked up and excited in the first half until I caught

I don't believe there is another city in the south that tries to accommodate their tourists any more than Miami does, for on some of the causeways leading to the beach across the bay, they have built up small islands out into the water to where the tourist can drive out, park and fish in the day time, and at night the younger set with a few older ones that on the loose can use them to park on and count the stars and gaze at the moon. The star gazers are so considerate of one another until the late arrivals will turn off their lights on leaving the main road and approach under darkness so the glare won't affect the view of a star gazer that already parked, and after a couple has counted all of the stars they care to they leave with the same consideration to their fellow star gazer of driving off without the lights being turned on.

DON'T WASTE

Use All the Sugar You Like . . . But Don't Waste It

It that third spoonful of sugar remains in the bottom of the cup . . . use only two the next time.

If the waste of sugar be eliminated there will be plenty for all our wants and needs.

The Government has wisely taken steps to insure sugar at reasonable price to the consumer. In this war there will be no repetition of "two pounds a week at 30 cents a pound".

Supplies on hand plus those which may be expected to arrive safely in the country will care for all our needs during the near-term future. Should the war continue, it is reasonable to expect that limitations and restrictions on home production will be removed and thus permit provision of facilities to meet our needs.
